When Louis body feels clean enough she turns off the shower head and begins to dry her body off, when she's done she puts on some casual clothes, grab the bag full of her muddy cheerleading uniform and wait outside for her parents, as she stands there she thinks of the upcoming prom in just 3 days, she is going but she probably just going to stand by the punch bowl, but she hopes Maybe someone who asked you out tomorrow

2 days until the massacre

Lenoir can't believe it, someone asked her out, not just someone the most popular boy in school asked her! out to go to prom...

her! Someone asked Lenore the loon out to prom, Lenore feels like she's going to fade, it's just all too much. it's a blur she thinks she says yes and when she gains Consciousness again she's blabbing to a parent, they're just as surprised as her, the only downside she can thanks is that her brother can't come to the prom, her parents say he caught a bad fever today and that's why he wasn't at school. But Lewis did say he was proud of her that's good enough right now the day of the massacre

all of the new working here is laughter, all Lenoir can feel was the wet sticky sensation of blood all over her, her mind is filled with thoughts of these people dying if something seems to wash over the audience of laughing faces as some of them stop laughing on cue and then it begins, it's all a blur some pick up objects others use their hands but all of their actions lead to One Singular objective, to kill as many people as they can, you know who looks upon the massacre and smiles, she begins walking out of the gymnasium

the days after the massacre

Lenora remembers first day after the massacre so vividly, the sound of the mob breaking into the house grabbing father and dragging him to the tree in the front yard, it sounds as he screams and begs for them to spare his family, his last choking breath as as he suffocates his body dangle from the tree by his neck, the sound of her mother crying beneath the tree, Clinging On to her dead husband's leg

the second day is less solid in her mind, the only thing that happened was Mother left with the car and never came back, it's only after everything is said and done that she learns mother drowned herself in the woods

The third day after the massacre still haunts your dreams, the sound of people calling her and her siblings monsters Wings in her ears to this day, the feeling of the Rope wrapping her tightly to the pole, the beginnings of a fire being lit under her feet, she was scared yes, but in that moment she could only think of seeing her parents in heaven, she closed her eyes and when she opened them feeling the fire go out beneath her feet she sees the face of her savior cutting the ropes that bind her, she looks to the side of the man that rescued her and sees the mob stare into space the mind's blank of all thoughts, when she's in the back of the car which has siblings she speaks only a few words and Falls unconscious

"thanks Uncle Michael"

3 days before the prom

Lenore can't believe this, this has to be a joke right, she wants to believe this is a joke, but the pleading look in her brother's eyes tells her he's completely serious about this request

"Louis can you repeat that", Lenoir says a look of confusion on her face," what are it's really simple Lenoir, I want you to give me some of your powers so I can make Allison said yes to coming prom with me" Lenoir says a sheepish grin splitting his lips

" so that's all you want my powers for, you sure about that" Lenoir looks suspiciously at her brother," noiry I promise I won't make her do anything inappropriate I just want to kiss and a dance from her" Lewis lift up his hand pointing out his pinky," I'll even pinky promise"

Lenore looks at the outstretched Pinky and gives an exasperated sigh before left our own and linking their pinkies," you better keep this promise, if you hear me" she says as she pokes a finger into Louis's chest," you hear me Lewis"

the night of the prom

Lenore feels like she's going to throw up, first Edgar breaks up with her via text, and now she's hearing her brother's thoughts about this Allison chick, and they're not very appropriate thoughts, obviously she takes away the powers she gave him, start making excuses obviously, Cheese's I can't believe him, eventually becomes too much the alcohol in her system there's ask us she feels for her brother she went to the nearest sink and starts upchucking mediocre of school Pizza, when she's done she looks at Louis and is about to go off at him when Alison starts screaming her head off, panicking she tries to wipe Allison's memory but she's she's really drunk she just makes Allison pass out

She knows the old Batman from the father's stories of fighting came in their days of villainy, she must say this new Batman smaller than the old one, she puts down the items in her hands on the kitchen table looks at the new Batman and says " get out of my house" the new Batman just cocks his head and says " And why should I do that", Linda is surprised she clearly she clearly had activated her powers when she said that, and that it makes sense if he's the new Batman he probably knows about her powers and lined his suit with something to block it

she gives an exhausted side and it begins transforming her outfit, when she's done she stands in a black and white dress, the skirt of the dress is mushroom-shaped and has white dots padded around it, in her hands is a cane on top of which is a teapot ornament, the new Batman is clearly shocked by this transformation and before he knows the teapot on mint is in front of his face and with a whistle knockout gas comes out of the spout

one day after the prom

the same night but at a hospital the newer jerked awake in a chair in a hospital room on the bed with her brother both of his arms wrapped in casts, for a moment she felt angry but then felt remorse for breaking her brother's arms, "I'm sorry Lewis I really am can you ever forgive me", Louis looked over to her and began to weep as he said yes. With a big smile on her face she wrapped her arms around her brother's head and gave him a hug when she released from her brother she heard the drawer of the hospital room open and in walked Edgar holding a bouquet of roses and a note." I'm so sorry I want you back I really do oh, oh the new or where you ever forgive me and be my girlfriend again", a hurricane of delightful enters her body as she Embraces Edgar and begins passionately making out with him when they pull a part for breath she pulls note from his hands and reads it apparently it's a love letter saying how much he loves her and wants to be back with her she throws it on the newest table and begins to make out with Edgar again, when he pulls away again Edgar pulls out his phone and asks food was phone number she gives it to him and he leaves and you know what looks back at Lewis and hugs them again and sits back down and wait for their parents
